Do you manage diverse groups & partnerships?

“Before attending the course, I had a rough understanding of what a partnership should look like and what might be important in supporting them. This course, however, opened my eyes to the many layers of a partnership and the various facets of brokering them. It was the first time I got to know a principle-based, elaborated approach to partnerships. The learning will undoubtedly be helpful in my future work.”

Partnerships Brokers Training

Canberra | 9 - 12 May 2023

Training Team

Our Training Team members are Accredited Partnership Brokers and PBA Authorised Trainers, and are drawn from the most experienced and respected Partnership Brokers in the world. Practitioners first and Trainers second, they have extensive current brokering experience informing their training.

KATE HAYES is a highly experienced partnerships, organisational design and strategy specialist. She has over twenty-five years of senior level experience working across the public, private, and community sectors in Australia and in international development across Asia and the Pacific. Her core work, motivated by reconciliation in Australia and the ambition of the sustainable development goals (SDGs) more broadly, is strategic and facilitative – seeding and facilitating partnerships and strategy across ideas, sectors, agencies, and communities. Kate is at her best serving multi stakeholder, cross sectoral partnerships grappling with complex issues. She works both independently and with the Partnership Brokers Association (PBA). Kate serves on the PBA Strategic Team and as Lead for their Global Training Portfolio and is both a PBA Authorised Practitioner Trainer and Accredited Partnership Broker.

JULIE MUNDY is an Accredited Partnership Broker, Associate, Trainer and Mentor with the Partnership Brokers Association and was previously, Lead: Training, Governance and Regional Portfolios. She is one of PBA's most experienced trainers and partnership brokers/specialists. Julie has worked in Australia and internationally across Asia, the Pacific and Africa for over 25 years, in project and organisational design, management, strategy, leadership and governance. She advises multi-stakeholder partnerships across a wide range of sectors, including climate change, health, governance, education, infrastructure, research and housing. Her recent brokering focus has been complex partnership agreement negotiations between governments, international corporates, and NGOs, conducting reviews of major cross-sector partnerships, designing and conducting partnership training and capacity building programs for a range of agencies, and a current focus on systems thinking to embed 'business unusual' to achieve sustainable change.

YESHE SMITH has worked in community development for over 20 years. She is currently the Programs and Partnerships Manager for the Institute of Human Security and Social Change, at La Trobe University and also undertakes advisory partnership work in other partnerships across a range of sectors. She has conducted partnering skills training in Timor-Leste, Indonesia, Bangladesh, Nepal, Papua New Guinea, Fiji and Australia, and has brokered partnerships in more than ten countries. Yeshe has a particular interest in the intersections of race and culture in the management of effective partnerships.
